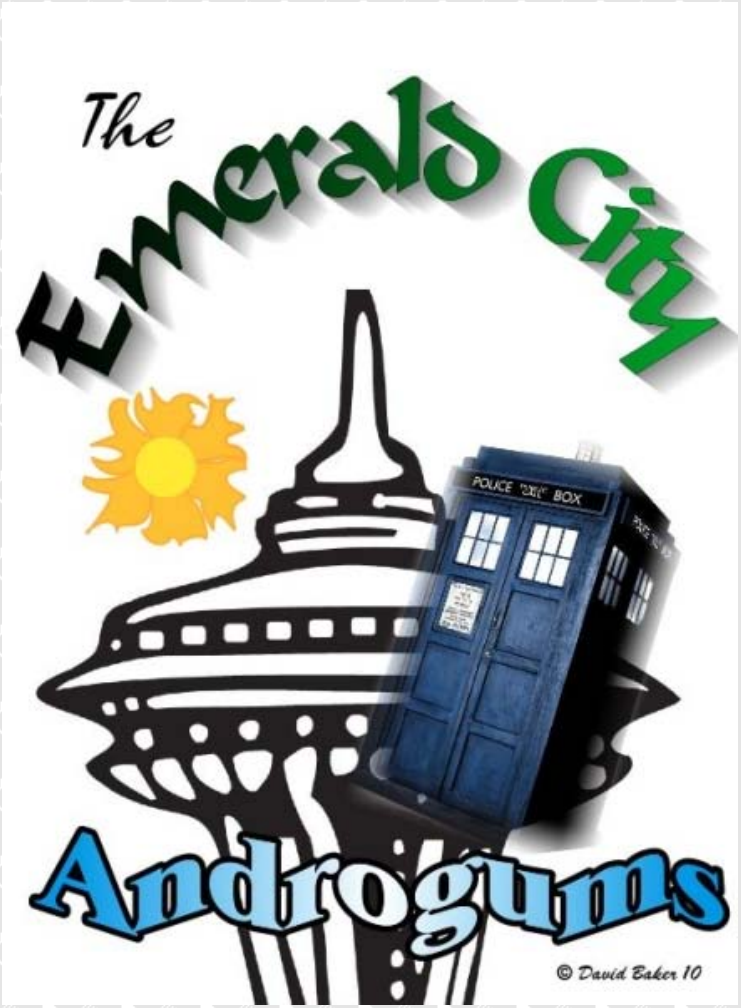
Greetings Tellurians! Welcome to

THE ANDROGUM KITCHEN

Homepage of



Current Events:

Meetings:

The next Androgum Meeting is: March 26.

Location: Spyder's place in Kenmore.
Theme: Dunno yet. Anyone have a thought?
Menu for the meeting: Again, dunno yet. Any requests? We'll probably show the director's cut of "Planet of Fire", however.
As always: Show up, have fun, bring food.
To get on the Androgums mailing list for forthcoming announcements, click here and fill in the blanks, or e-mail the Head Chef.

Doctor Who Television Schedule

KBTC:

Classic Doctor Who is on KBTC, the PBS station out of Tacoma! So, here is the KBTC Doctor Who schedule (as best as we can guess it), featuring William Hartnell as the Doctor.

- February 19: "The Sensorites", parts 1 and 2 (of 6) (yes, this is a correction of the Choice guide)
- February 26: "The Sensorites", parts 3 and 4 (of 6)
- March 5: "The Sensorites", parts 5 and 6 (of 6)

All showings start at 7:00 p.m., rerun very early the next morning at 12:00 midnight., unless otherwise indicated. For more information about KBTC, check out their website at kbtc.org.

BBC America and BBC America HD:

BBC America now has dual feeds, East and West, so the schedule may be off by three hours if you get the East feed. Here's their West schedule:

- February 14:
  - "The Hungry Earth", 7:00 a.m.
  - "Cold Blood", 2:00 p.m.
- February 15:
  - "Cold Blood", 7:00 a.m.
  - "Vincent and the Doctor", 2:00 p.m.
- February 16:

- "Vincent and the Doctor", 1:00 a.m. and 7:00 a.m.
- "The Lodger", 2:00 p.m.

- February 17:
  - "The Lodger", 1:00 a.m. and 7:00 a.m.
  - "The Pandorica Opens", 2:00 p.m.
- February 18:
  - "The Pandorica Opens", 7:00 a.m.
  - "The Big Bang", 2:00 p.m.
  - "The Pandorica Opens"/"The Big Bang" compilation movie, 11:00 p.m.
- February 19:
  - "World War Three", 4:00 a.m.
  - "Dalek", 5:00 a.m.
- February 21:
  - "The Big Bang", 7:00 a.m.
  - "Rose", 2:00 p.m.
- February 22:
  - "Rose", 7:00 a.m.
  - "The End of the World", 2:00 p.m.
- February 23:
  - "The End of the World", 1:00 a.m. and 7:00 a.m.
  - "The Unquiet Dead", 2:00 p.m.
- February 24:
  - "The Unquiet Dead", 1:00 a.m. and 7:00 a.m.
  - "Aliens of London", 2:00 p.m.
- February 25:
  - "Aliens of London", 7:00 a.m. and 11:00 p.m.
  - "World War Three", 2:00 p.m.
- February 26:
  - "World War Three", 12:00 midnight
  - "Dalek", 4:00 a.m.
  - "The Long Game", 5:00 a.m.
- February 28:
  - "World War Three", 7:00 a.m.
  - "Dalek", 2:00 p.m.
- March 1:
  - "Dalek", 7:00 a.m.
  - "The Long Game", 2:00 p.m.
- March 2:
  - "The Long Game", 1:00 a.m. and 7:00 a.m.
  - "Father's Day", 2:00 p.m.
- March 3:
  - "Father's Day", 1:00 a.m. and 7:00 a.m.
  - "The Empty Child", 2:00 p.m.

March 4:
- "The Empty Child", 7:00 a.m. and 11:00 p.m.
- "The Doctor Dances", 2:00 p.m.

- March 5:
  - "The Doctor Dances", 12:00 midnight
  - "The Long Game", 4:00 a.m.
  - "Father's Day", 5:00 p.m.
- March 7:
  - "The Doctor Dances", 7:00 a.m.
  - "Boom Town", 2:00 p.m.
- March 8:
  - "Boom Town", 7:00 a.m.
  - "Bad Wolf", 2:00 p.m.
- March 9:
  - "Bad Wolf", 1:00 a.m. and 7:00 a.m.
  - "The Parting of the Ways", 2:00 p.m.
- March 10:
  - "Doomsday", 1:00 a.m.
  - "The Parting of the Ways", 7:00 a.m.
  - "The Christmas Invasion", 2:00 p.m.
- March 11:
  - "The Parting of the Ways", 12:00 midnight
  - "The Christmas Invasion", 1:00 a.m., 7:00 a.m., and 11:00 p.m.
  - "New Earth", 2:00 p.m.
- March 12:
  - "New Earth", 12:00 midnight
  - "Father's Day", 4:00 a.m.
  - "The Empty Child", 5:00 p.m.
- Several episodes are usually also available at any one time on BBC America On Demand

Keep an eye on the channel's Doctor Who page at bbcamerica.com/content/123/index.jsp, and bbcamerica.com/tvschedule.jsp?showsList=123 for schedule updates (which appear to be frequent).

BBC America is also the home of Torchwood in the United States. Here's the current schedule:

- February 14: "Children of Earth: Day Three", 12:00 noon
- February 15: "Children of Earth: Day Four", 12:00 noon
- February 16: "Children of Earth: Day Five", 12:00 noon
- February 17: "Everything Changes", 12:00 noon
- February 18: "Day One", 12:00 noon
- February 21: "Ghost Machine", 12:00 noon
- February 22: "Cyberwoman", 12:00 noon
- February 23: "Small Worlds", 12:00 noon
- February 24: "Countrycide", 12:00 noon

- February 25: "Greeks Bearing Gifts", 12:00 noon
- February 28: "They Keep Killing Suzie", 12:00 noon
- March 1: "Random Shoes", 12:00 noon
- March 2: "Out of Time", 12:00 noon
- March 3: "Combat", 12:00 noon
- March 4: "Captain Jack Harkness", 12:00 noon
- March 7: "End of Days", 12:00 noon
- March 8: "Kiss Kiss, Bang Bang", 12:00 noon
- March 9: "Sleeper", 12:00 noon
- March 10: "To the Last Man", 12:00 noon
- March 11: "Meat", 12:00 noon

BBC America's Torchwood site is at bbcamerica.com/content/262/index.jsp, and schedule at bbcamerica.com/tvschedule.jsp?showsList=262. If you have BBC America On Demand, check to see what's available there, too.

Syfy:

Syfy no longer has the first run rights to Doctor Who or The Sarah Jane Adventures in the United States. But their Doctor Who site is still up at syfy.com/doctorwho/. They also still retain some rerun rights. Their current schedule:

- (No showings currently scheduled)

And hey, here's the article about the show from The Seatttle Times. And for season 2, here's the wire service story they picked up.

CBC (CBUT Vancouver):

Stick a fork in it, the Doctor's run on the CBC is over.

The CBC's Doctor Who web page can be found at cbc.ca/doctorwho/. The CBC's website is also presenting a Doctor Who documentary, Planet of the Doctor, which can be seen at cbc.ca/planetofthedoctor/.

YouTube:

The BBC is now putting some classic Doctor Who stories up on YouTube. Take a look at their Doctor Who page at youtube.com/show/drwho to see which ones are currently available. And check the sidebar at the right to see what other shows they have also put on YouTube.

SeeSaw:

Also showing classic Who is SeeSaw.com, a television-on-the-internet service. The episodes are about the same ones the BBC has put on YouTube. Check out their Who offerings at www.seesaw.com/doctor-who.

---

bbc.co.uk:

Information about the show, including web editions of some out-of-print Doctor Who novels and new made-for-the-Internet stories, can be found at the BBC's Doctor Who website at bbc.co.uk/doctorwho/.

Want to see some of the websites shown or mentioned in the show, or that are otherwise part of the show?

- whoisdoctorwho.co.uk/ (started by Clive, as seen in "Rose," later maintained by Mickey, but who's in charge now?)
- henriksonline.co.uk/, the site for Henrik's Department Store, where Rose worked and first met the Doctor
- unit.org.uk/
- geocomtex.net/ (Henry Van Statten's company, as seen in "Dalek")
- badwolf.org.uk
- visittorchwood.co.uk/ (Torchwood House, from "Tooth and Claw")
- deffryvaleschool.org.uk/ (the title school in "School Reunion")
- cybusindustries.net/ (from "Rise of the Cybermen" and "The Age of Steel")
- internationalelectromatics.co.uk/, a subsidiary of Cybus Industries, but first seen way back in "The Invasion"!
- cybusfitness.co.uk/, another Cybus Industries subsidiary
- bbc.co.uk/entertainment/ghostwatch/, for the show Ghost Watch seen in "Army of Ghosts"
- the Leamington Spa and Lifeboat Museum
- Millingdale ice cream
- votesaxon.org.uk/
- myspace.com/marthajonesuk — Martha's MySpace page
- Search-Wise.net, the search engine Rose used to find Clive. It's not a real search engine, but one set up just to be used in movies and television shows

The companion behind-the-scenes series, Doctor Who Confidential, broadcasts on BBC Three. The cut down abbreviated episodes are also being streamed on the web, so keep your eyes on the Doctor Who Confidential website at www.bbc.co.uk/doctorwho/confidential/.

The BBC's website has some made-for-internet stories. A new pre-Eccleston ninth Doctor, played by Richard E. Grant, appears in the fortieth anniversary story, "Scream of the Shalka" (www.bbc.co.uk/doctorwho/classic/webcasts/shalka/). The sixth Doctor meets up with the Cybermen in "Real Time" (www.bbc.co.uk/doctorwho/classic/webcasts/realtime/). The made-for-Internet version of "Shada," featuring Paul McGann as the Doctor, Lalla Ward as Romana, and John Leeson as K-9, is back, and can be found at www.bbc.co.uk/doctorwho/classic/webcasts/shada/.

News:

What a difference six months can make! The January 2011 pledge drive on KBTC raised $18,040, and that's even before matching gifts, online pledges, and late arrivals are taken into account. That not only beat the goal of $15,000 for the night, that also made up for the shortfall from last June, and ensures the show will be on the air for another six months.

Torchwood began filming the new series "Miracle Day" early in January with exterior shots in Los Angeles before production moved across the Pond to Cardiff. So yes, it's happening!

More Torchwood casting news: Alexa Havins (One Life to Live, All My Children) has been cast as Esther Drummond, another CIA agent who has a mad crush on Rex Matheson. Dichen Lachman (Neighbours, Dollhouse) will be playing another, currently unnamed CIA agent in the opening episode. Arlene Tur (Crash) is playing Dr. Vera Juarez, and Lauren Ambrose (Six Feet Under) is PR agent Jilly Kitzinger. The name of the story has also been changed to "Miracle Day", and the miracle is that people on Earth have stopped dying! They keep aging, and getting sick and injured, but nobody dies. When CIA agent Rex Matheson begins investigating, he comes across the remains of an old British organization called Torchwood...

The Doctor is marrying his own daughter, in more ways than one! David Tennant and Georgia Moffett have announced their engagement, and are planning a New Year's 2012 wedding. They met and started dating when she played Jenny, the title character in The Doctor's Daughter. Georgia is the daughter of Peter Davison and Sandra Dickenson. The couple have also announced the birth of their first child, coming this spring.

BBC America will be showing episodes of the new season on the very same day they're shown in Great Britain! Yay!

Well, now, here's an interesting new video!

Yes, we in America can now enter a Doctor Who contest. Find out more details at www.wheresthetardis.com/. Grand prize is a private Doctor Who screening in your local community (probably an episode or two of the new season) and every Doctor Who DVD that's available in North America.

In Torchwood casting news, Mekhi Phifer (Homicide: Life on the Street, ER, Lie to Me) will play Rex Matheson, and Bill Pullman (Independence Day, Casper, While You Were Sleeping, Spaceballs) will play Oswald Danes. Tom Price will be back as Gwen's former partner on the Cardiff police force, ~~PC~~ Sergeant Andy Davidson, as are the actors who played Gwen's parents back in Season 2.

Doctor Who filmed parts of its opening two-part story in Monument Valley, Utah, making the first time that first-unit production involving actors has been filmed in the United States. The scenes take place in the 1960s, and the Doctor, Amy, and Rory will eventually be summoned to the Oval Office. Matt Smith, Karen Gillan, Arthur Darvill, and Alex Kingston (!) were part of the shoot, taking place in November. For a little more detail, see the BBC's article at www.bbc.co.uk/news/entertainment-arts-11510514. While in the States, Matt Smith appeared on a special Doctor Who-themed episode of The Late Late Show with Craig Ferguson (Ferguson, born in Scotland, is a fan). Here's the "lost" opening of that episode, which CBS found they couldn't show just minutes before broadcast:

It won again! The 2010 Hugo Award for Best Dramatic Presentation, Short Form, went to the Doctor Who special "The Waters of Mars", written by Russell T. Davies and Phil Ford and directed by Graeme Harper. It beat out "The Next Doctor" and "Planet of the Dead", as well as the Dollhouse episode "Epitaph 1" and the FlashForward episode "No More Good Days". For the complete list of this year's Hugo winners, take a look at www.thehugoawards.org/2010/09/2010-hugo-award-winners/.

A twist on next year's broadcast of the new season of Doctor Who: It's going to be split into two parts. Episodes one through seven will be shown in the spring as usual, but then there will be some big cliffhanger, and the rest of the season will then be shown in the fall. Hmm...

It's nearly a year away still, but already we're getting good news about the new Torchwood series. First off, yes, it will be a single ten-episode story, titled "The New World", to be broadcast on Starz in the United States and the BBC in Great Britain. John Barrowman, Eve Myles, and Kai Owen are all back, and Gwen and Rhys are going to be raising baby Anwen while dealing with the events. New characters (yet to be cast) will be CIA agents Rex Matheson and Ester, who will team up with what's left of Torchwood to deal with a global copnspiracy. Events will take place in (at least) Cardiff, Shanghai, Los Angeles, and Washington, D.C. Writers Russell T. Davies and John Fay ("Children of Earth") will be returning, and they will be joined by John Shiban (The X-Files, The Lone Gunmen, Smallville, Legend of the Seeker, Breaking Bad), Doris Egan (Smallville, Dark Angel, House), and Jane Espenson (Buffy the Vampire Slayer, Battlestar Galactica, Caprica).

The winners of the Saturn Awards have been released, and Torchwood won Best Presentation on Television for "Children of Earth". It beat out the Doctor Who special "The End of Time", Syfy's Alice miniseries, AMC's remake of The Prisoner, The Tudors, and ABC's remake of V. In other categories, David Tennant lost out for Best Actor on Television to Josh Holloway of Lost, and Bernard Cribbins lost the Best Guest Starring Role on Television award to

Leonard Nimoy on Fringe. Lost: "The Complete Fifth Season" won for Best DVD Television Release, defeating both Doctor Who: "Planet of the Dead" and Torchwood: "Children of Earth". Meanwhile, in Canada, the Constellation Awards were also presented, which saw David Tennant win for Best Male Performance in a 2009 Science Fiction Television Episode for "The Waters of Mars". For a complete list of winners, see constellations.tcon.ca. And another set of awards, the online Portal Awards, were dominated by Doctor Who, with Torchwood also making a good showing. The Who winners were David Tennant for Best Actor/Television (with John Barrowman second), Eve Myles for Best Actress/Televison (and Karen Gillan as the runner-up), Bernard Cribbins as Best Supporting Actor/Televison, "The End of Time" as Best Episode/Televison (and "Children of Earth" right behind it), Alex Kingston as Best Special Guest/Televison, and Doctor Who as Best Series/Television, with Torchwood right behind. For the complete list of all winners and nominees, see www.airlockalpha.com/specials/portal-awards-2010

The June 12, 2010 Doctor Who pledge drive at KBTC was a bit of a disappointment. With a goal of $15,000, the final tally fell far short of that, not even quite reaching $10,000. Online pledges, corporate matches, and late arrivals from time shifters (or those who just don't call in) will push that closer to the goal, but it looks like, for the first time in many years, the station won't get there, endangering the future of classic Doctor Who in Western Washington.

Too far north to see Doctor Who on KBTC? Maybe not any more! KBTC has announced that their signal now reaches Belligham, Vancouver, and Victoria. If you get over-the-air digital channels, retune your receiver to get channels 28.1 and 28.2, and you may be in for a very pleasant surprise every Saturday night at 7:00 p.m.

More recognition for Doctor Who from The Guinness Book of World Records: Doctor Who Magazine has been awarded the record for Longest Running Magazine Based on a Television Series. Gee, over thirty years and four hundred issues, you think?

We have our own domain! So now androgums.org will be the place to come for all the latest on our little enclave of Seattle-area Doctor Who fandom. But the domain does cost us a little bit of money, so if you can help out with a donation, just click here:

The latest news about the new show can be found at Outpost Gallifrey's news page.

Who are The Emerald City Androgums?

The Emerald City Androgums are a fan club devoted to Doctor Who, and to having as much fun as unhumanly possible at our meetings. We meet every other month for an Androgum potluck. Members are encouraged to eat, drink, and be merry, and we watch whatever shows tickle our fancy. We try to include at least one selection of the good Doctor himself.

In addition to semi-regular parties, we also had a newsletter that tried to keep the more isolated-from-fandom members up-to-date on the latest Who happenings and rumors. It also served as a creative forum for any Androgum who felt like writing a story or drawing a picture.

The newsletter is no more, however, and all newsletter activities will soon move on-line. So if you want to contribute something, here's the place to do it!

We can scan art, so if you'd like to help us create an on-line Androgum gallery, please feel free to send the art to us!

And coming soon: Club T-shirts and aprons!

Doctor Who Shopping

Looking for that perfect Doctor Who item? Want to relive some of the Doctor's greatest adventures or experience some of his new ones? Try these links for new Doctor Who books, videos and DVDs, audio stories, and other merchandise.

- New shirts from the Emerald City Androgums! You can get one that says, "Russell T. Davies is my master now," one that says, "This is not war! This is pest control!" and one with both messages (either "Russell T. Davies is my master now" or "This is not war! This is pest control!" on front)
- Doctor Who items at Amazon.com, such as:

Doctor Who
Matt Smith, Karen ...
Best Price $39.99
or Buy New $53.99
Buy from amazon.com
Privacy Information

Doctor Who
David Tennant, Dav...
Best Price $20.89
or Buy New $28.99
Buy from amazon.com
Privacy Information

Doctor Who
David Tennant, Cat...
Best Price $32.80
or Buy New $48.99
Buy from amazon.com
Privacy Information

Doctor Who
David Tennant, Fre...
Best Price $26.95
or Buy New $47.99
Buy from amazon.com
Privacy Information

Doctor Who
David Tennant, Bil...
Best Price $26.81
or Buy New $60.99
Buy from amazon.com
Privacy Information

Doctor Who
Patrick Troughton,...
Best Price $33.06
or Buy New $35.99
Buy from amazon.com
Privacy Information

Doctor Who
Peter Davison, Sar...
Best Price $38.94
or Buy New $40.99
Buy from amazon.com
Privacy Information

Doctor Who Dalek War
Jon Pertwee, Katy ...
Best Price $41.39
or Buy New $49.99
Buy from amazon.com
Privacy Information

Doctor Who
David Tennant
Best Price $17.69
or Buy New $20.99
Buy from amazon.com
Privacy Information

- Doctor Who items at Amazon.co.uk (note that British DVDs and videos will not work in most American players)
- Book Depository.co.uk — Would you believe a British bookstore that ships to North America for free? It's true! And they're speedy, too! Check them out! Or you can check out their American site at Bookdepository.com/.
- Big Finish Productions, producers of new Doctor Who and Bernice Summerfield audio stories and books
- BBC Doctor Who audio downloads (from classic stories to brand new adventures)
- Alternating Reality, a local store that helps sponsor Doctor Who on KBTC
- Who North America
- DoctorWhoStore.com
- Doctor Who America
- Who Store, a British Who shop that doesn't charge extra for overseas shipping (like to, say, North America)

- Doctor Who Links
- The BBC's official Doctor Who site
- KBTC, our local Doctor Who provider.
- Anglicon, our local (and now lamented) British media convention.
- Panini Comics, publishers of Doctor Who Magazine
- David Tennant's official website
- Want to make your own Tom Baker-style Doctor Who scarf? Here are some instructions. And someone has set up a site just about the scarves at http://www.doctorwhoscarf.com/.

Send e-mail comments about the Androgum club via this e-mail link.